DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claim 4 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim, or amend the claim to place the claim in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim in independent form.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-6, 9-16, 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by US Patent 6,781,762 issued to Ozawa.

See: abstract; figure 12; column 2, line 32 – column 4, line 29; column 14, line 46 – column 15, line 46.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 7, 8, 17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ozawa as applied to claims 1 and 11 above, in view of US Patent 6,461,967 issued to Wu et al. (hereinafter, Wu).

It is noted that Ozawa teaches each layer may be silica. Ozawa also teaches that the etching rates of the various layers can be controlled by selecting particular materials for each of the layer, and also by controlling the conditions under which each of the layers are produced.

Ozawa does not teach etching the lens mold from a layered system wherein a lower layer is more heavily doped than an overlying layer.

Wu teaches that the etch rate of silicon-containing materials is a function of dopant concentration. Wu teaches that etch rate decrease as the dopant concentration increases.

When etching a lens mold according to the method of Ozawa, it would have been obvious for one skilled in the art to use a more highly doped layer as the lower layer because, Ozawa teaches that the lower layer should etch more slowly than the overlying layer and Ozawa teaches that the etch rates can be controlled by adjusting the composition of the layers. Therefore, in accordance with Wu, the skilled artisan would find it obvious use a more highly doped layer on the bottom because this would provide the relative etch rates that are required by Ozawa's method.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
